Croatian Association of Graduate Students AMCA-ERF

ABSTRACT

The Croatian Association of Graduated Students of the UNIZG, Faculty of Education and Rehabilitation Sciences (AMCA-ERF) was founded in 2010 in order to preserve and nurture the tradition and reputation by connecting former and current students of all three study programs represented at the home Faculty. It is a place where former students, teachers, and friends of the Faculty come together. The goals and activities of the AMCA-ERF association include fostering ethics among university students, building and strengthening connections and cooperation between ERF graduates, encouraging and establishing connections between ERF and similar or related institutions in Croatia and the world, as well as publishing activities, organising members' meetings (lectures, round tables), and celebrating important anniversaries and successes of the alumni. Since 2013, AMCA-ERF has been a member of the AMCA University Association. As part of the LOSPER project, a platform was created for the base of the alumni promoting the improvement of the study programmes of Speech Therapy, Educational Rehabilitation, and Social Pedagogy, in addition to the three Occupational and Qualification Standards. This poster will present an overview of the activities of the AMCA-ERF over a period of 12 years.
